In New York both parties are bringing into the field for the Constitutional Convention their best men, and the Tribune thinks it will be a body of unequaled ability and purity. Let us, in Pennsylvania, in selecting men for the next Legislature, for once adopt and rigidly adhere to the same rule.

In New York, they say, the extreme liveliness of our sacred music occasionally affords some strange occurrences. A recent operatic performance in one of the first-class churches came near being encored, and the solo performer called out by an enthusiastic worshipper, who forgot his place and thought he was in front of the foot-lights. On another occasion the performance was so exciting that it is said a gentleman undertook "to walk a figure" in the aisle.

The Protestant theological school at Florence, Italy, is growing strong and successful, and Protestant missions throughout that country are now prosecuted with great vigor, particularly by the Waldenses. An American and Foreign Christian Union is also doing useful unsectarian work, and Protestantism in Italy is taking to itself a peculiar freedom in form and spirit. A large part of the people, on separating from the church of Rome, prefer a system of Christian life more free and simple than that of any Protestant sect whatever.

During the recent passage of the steamer Chicago, from Liverpool to New York, an iceberg was encountered which stove a hole in her bow, and for several days she was in imminent danger of sinking. During the excitement one of the steerage passengers furnished a little melancholy amusement by following the officers about and offering them money if they would let him go into the boats with them. He was perfectly willing that his wife should remain on the ship. She was a good Christian, he said, and prepared to die; but he was not quite ready to go, and would rather get to New York first, where he would have time for repentance.

The New Orleans Price Current of the 10th, speaking of the crevasses and the weather, and the disastrous consequences of the overflow, says: "There is little or no hope that any of the crevasses referred to will be stopped until the river recedes within its natural banks. This cannot take place for many weeks, or perhaps months to come, as the season above is so backward, and in the meantime the planted cane will all be destroyed when under water, as two weeks is about the longest period that it will live submerged. The weather for some weeks past has been extremely unfavorable to the planting interests. It has not only been remarkably cold for the season, but there has been a succession of drenching rains which have suspended ploughing and other plantation labor, so that the planters are now a full month behind in their work."

Presidential Candidates.—The Zanesville Courier, edited by General Legget, in referring to an article in the Pittsburgh Gazette, suggesting General O. O. Howard for President, says: "We served under General Howard and know, honor and respect him. His excellent qualities and christian virtues endear him to all. But he is not the man to take the helm of national affairs. We say it, with all respect for General Howard, but such is the case. He has not that firmness nor decision of character requisite for that exalted position. He depends too much upon the opinions of others and not enough upon his own."

The Courier, in conclusion says: "The people have selected, in their own minds, General Grant for President. If he will consent to be a candidate, the President makers will be saved much trouble. The question of General Grant's acceptance is the first one to be settled."

It is asserted that at the outset Mr. Seward was a hindrance to the ratification of the Russian treaty, and the idea that it was carried through the influence of his dinners is all bosh. One correspondent says:

"At that time, as is well known, a majority of the Senate was against it; but the more it was talked up the stronger it grew, and finally but two Senators had the courage to vote against it. Several disliked the project who were afraid to vote against it. The western, and especially the Pacific members of the Senate, were determined that it should pass, and declared that for a Republican Senate to reject it would be fatal."

It is wonderful to see how in this, as in things in general, the disposition prevails to get on the successful side, and make it appear nobody was ever on the other.

The Washington correspondent of the Detroit Post, indulges in Presidential speculation, which, we may conclude, will soon become plenty as blackberries: Among the Senators, Wade's chances are considered the best, after which may be mentioned Fessenden, Yates, Morton, and Trumbull. Pomeroy thinks his chances good for the Vice Presidency. Senators Sherman and Sprague are looking after the same interest. General Grant is not talked of now, although it is conceded that he would be elected if nominated by either party. Among the generals, General George H. Thomas is most talked of. In the House of Representatives, Colfax, Butler and Logan are the only candidates. The latter is also spoken of as the soldier's candidate on the Republican ticket, for the Vice Presidency. A ticket with Colfax for President and General O. O. Howard, of the Freedmen's Bureau, for Vice President, is also spoken of. It is also seriously reported that Horace Greeley thinks his chances for the Presidential office good.

No Alliance Between Austria and Prussia.

[From the Vienna Presse, March 31.]

* * * Such a policy [Austro-Prussian alliance] would be one of mere haphazard, to be left only to adventurers. Alliances like those concluded with Bavaria and Wurtemberg presuppose, as a first condition, the abdication of a country. We should doubt of the duration of an Austro-Prussian alliance as much as we would fear an intimate understanding between Russia and Prussia. And are we then, at the service of the latter, to labor to paralyze the only continental power not yet struck down in order that after the realization of the object, we might receive the thanks which Russo-Prussian ambition might vote us?

Paris Exposition Four Days Before the Opening.

The Paris correspondent of the Herald, writing four days prior to the opening of the Exhibition, says: "I have just returned from a walk, or rather, I might say, a wade, through the grounds and building of the grand Exhibition, and such a scene of wild confusion as exists there, has probably never been witnessed since the Titans hurled down rocks and shivered mountains in their combats with the gods. It is a simple swindle on the part of the Imperial Commission, to allow the impression to go forth uncorrected, that on the opening day, or during any time for a month or six weeks thereafter, visitors who come to see it will be able to obtain any accurate idea of what the Exhibition was intended to be, or what it probably will be. The opening ought to have been postponed till the 1st of May, at least, but this would have been a decidedly unpopular movement with the hotel and shop keepers, who want customers to commence arriving as soon as possible. Everything is in the most incomplete condition. Mud is nearly knee deep in the park; many of the buildings erecting there are yet in their skeleton state; not an inch of greensward has been laid upon what was intended to be grassy lawns, and the grounds are covered with bales and boxes piled up on one another, and jumbled helter skelter together. In the interior it was even worse. Not one-hundredth part of the goods are yet opened, and probably not one-half of them are yet on the ground. The stanchions and shafting for the machinery are not yet up, there is but little machinery in, and in many parts of the building the flooring is not even Temperance in Beaver County.

Special Correspondence of Pittsburgh Commercial.

ROCHESTER, April 15, 1867.

The temperance cause has many friends in this county, and much interest is manifested by the citizens of all our towns and villages in the promotion of the good work. Rev. James A. Davidson, of Erie, the State Lecturer for the Good Templars, is here, and has been greeted by very large audiences. On Saturday evening he lectured to a large congregation in the M. E. Church, Bridgewater, and on Sabbath addressed the Sabbath Schools of Beaver, in the Presbyterian Church, urging the organization of a Band of Hope or Children's society there. The large church was filled with happy children, who gave unmistakable evidence of satisfaction when the speaker warned them against following the pernicious example of men who use profane language, chew tobacco or drink intoxicating liquors. A very superior choir gave additional interest to the meeting. On Sunday evening we had a union of all the churches in Bridgewater, and the largest congregation seen here for several years met in the M. E. Church, where Mr. Davidson gave us a temperance sermon, in which he clearly demonstrated that the church must take the lead in the temperance reform, if it is to be successful. The pastors of the several churches were present, and the preacher received the most profound attention.

Mr. Davidson lectures on Tuesday evening at [illegible]dom; on Wednesday, at Rochester, in [illegible] Hall; and in the Court House, Beaver, on Thursday evening, and on Friday, at New Brighton, with the view of organizing Lodges of Good Templars in each place.

The Lodge of Good Templars at Bridgewater has been in operation about one year, and has nearly two hundred members. The friendliness and faithfulness of the COMMERCIAL to the interests of the people, gives great satisfaction to all good citizens, [illegible]

THE ADJOURNMENT QUESTION.

Personal Debate in the Senate.

Subpœnas Served on Grant and Stanton.

Return to be Made December 1st.

The Arkansas Case Abandoned.

H. J. Raymond's Nomination not Withdrawn.

Commissioners on Ohio and Indiana Claims.

Commutation of Rations of Prisoners of War.

Special Dispatch to the Pittsburgh Commercial.

WASHINGTON, April 16, 1867.

Adjournment.

The subject of final adjournment is sure to raise a breeze when discussed in the Senate. It was up again to-day on a resolution to extend the session. Mr. Chandler made a somewhat severe attack upon Mr. Fessenden for something said by the latter in secret session. He charged that Mr. Fessenden had given the President notice that he would vote to confirm his Democratic nominees, if he found he could not get Republicans. Mr. Fessenden denied the charge with indignation. Messrs. Howe, Cameron and other Senators did not believe it would make any difference when the Senate adjourned. If it continued the session a month there would still be vacant offices. The session was extended to 4 P. M., of Thursday, but it is the general opinion that another extension will be made, as the President is very slow in making new nominations.

Postponement.

Isaac Newton is fixed in his place as Commissioner of Agriculture till next December. Capron was reconsidered this afternoon, and another final vote was taken. By six majority he was postponed to December. This prevents the President from making any other appointment. A majority of the Senate believe Capron is quite as incompetent to fill the place as Newton, and insist that when a change is made one of the best agriculturists in the country shall have it.

Subpœnas Served.

The United States Marshall, for the Supreme Court, to-day served the subpœnas issued by the Court in the Georgia case, against General Grant and Secretary Stanton. One will be served on General Pope in a few days. The return to the summons is fixed for December 1st, which postpones the entire question till that time. This result is quite unexpected to the counsel in the case, who expected to argue next week before a full bench. The Mississippi bill will be amended so as to conform to the Georgia bill, and motion to file it will be argued on Thursday next. A similar decision to that rendered in the Georgia application is anticipated by the lawyers employed by Mississippi. It may be stated in this connection that Governor Murphy, of Arkansas, telegraphed to-day to the counsel who were moving in behalf of that State, that he did not approve of the proceeding, and should not be made a party to it. The matter was thereupon abandoned so far as that State is concerned.

Raymond's Nomination.

There is no truth in the report that Henry J. Raymond has asked to have his nomination for the Austrian mission withdrawn. Leading radical public men in New York have telegraphed urging his confirmation, among them Horace Greeley.

Geo. Peabody and Victoria's Portrait.

Mr. George Peabody will again visit this city, on Thursday, the 18th inst., for the purpose of receiving Queen Victoria's portrait, and will leave on the Scotia for Europe on the first of May. The portrait will be presented by the British Legation.

Cincinnati Postmastership.

Col. W. H. Taylor was rejected by the Senate to-day as postmaster at Cincinnati for the third time. The President is expected to send in to-morrow either Col. John T. Wiltzel or Col. Jos. S. Wise to fill the vacancy.

Reconsideration Defeated.

The Senate discussed for two hours to-day a motion to reconsider the confirmation of General Sol. Meredith, of Indiana, as Surveyor General of Montana, and finally defeated it. This leaves him confirmed beyond any further doubt.

Commissioners Appointed.

The President to-day made the following nominations of Commissioners to settle the war claims of Indiana and Ohio under the act passed by the Fortieth Congress: For Indiana, Jno. S. Phelps, of Missouri; Jas. C. Robinson, of Illinois, and Frank Woodward, of Kentucky. For Ohio, Maj. Gen. Silas Casey, Lieut. Col. Lorenzo Sitgreaves, and Jno. B. Stonehouse, of New York.

Commutation.

The commutation of twenty-five cents per day for rations of enlisted men who have been prisoners of war, is now being paid at the office of the Commissary General of Prisoners in this city, and quite a large number of cases have been disposed of already. A statement was made a short time ago in reference to the commencement of these payments, in which it was said that the commutation was due to officers who had been prisoners of war. This is a mistake. None are entitled but soldiers, sailors and marines.

Indian Statistics.

The Commissioner of Indian Affairs has completed the report in relation to the statistics of the bureau and the treaties now in force with the various tribes, called for by the resolution of the Senate. The report is very complete, and prepared with great care.

Rumors Unconfirmed.

A good many rumors have prevailed within a few days that the Government was negotiating for the purchase of Sonora and other Mexican states, and the price named for the same was ten millions in gold. The State Department does not seem willing to furnish any confirmation of these stories.

WASHINGTON, April 16.

COLUMBIAN DIFFICULTIES SETTLED.

Gen. Solgar, Minister from the United States of Columbia to this country, received important dispatches dated, March 17, stating that the difficulties between President Mosquera and Congress, which gave rise to the supposition of a coup d'etat, have been satisfactorily arranged by the two branches of the government, and public as well as commercial affairs have resumed their former conditions.

APPEAL FOR MAXIMILIAN.

After the Senate had, to-day, voted to go into Executive session, Mr. Johnson rose to introduce a resolution, but it was declared not in order, owing to the fact above stated. The resolution, it is said, recites various points in Mexican affairs, and concludes with an expression somewhat in the way of an appeal to the Liberal Government in behalf of Maximilian and his army, should they fall into the hands of the troops of that Republic. In other words, seconding the efforts of the Executive in the same direction.

THE SUBPŒNA.

The following is a copy of the subpœna ordered to be issued by the Supreme Court:

The State of Georgia, complainant, vs. Edwin M. Stanton, Ulysses S. Grant and John Pope, defendants in equity: The President of the United States to Edwin M. Stanton, U. S. Grant and John Pope, greeting: For certain causes offered before the Supreme Court of the United States, holding jurisdiction in equity, you are hereby commanded that laying all other matters aside, and notwithstanding any excuse, you be and appear before said Supreme Court, holding jurisdiction in equity, on the first Monday in December next, at the City of Washington, in the District of Columbia, being the present seat of the National Government of the United States, to answer unto bill of complaint of the State of Georgia in said Court exhibited against you. Hereof you are not to fail at your peril.

The subpœna was served at Grant's headquarters to-day.

ANNIVERSARY.

The fifth anniversary of the emancipation of slaves in the District of Columbia was celebrated to-day by the colored people. Owing to the storm, the original programme was not carried out. A few delegations from other cities were present. Not over fifteen hundred participated in the procession.

CONFIRMATIONS.

The Senate last week reconsidered the vote by which ex-Governor Bradford, of Maryland, was confirmed Surveyor of the port of Baltimore, but to-day again confirmed the nomination.

The following nominations were rejected: —Jos. D. Moore, Bloomington, Indiana; Wm. H. D. Taylor, Cincinnati. Secretary of Colorado Territory—Marshall F. Moore, of Ohio. United States Consuls—O. B. Clarke, of Michigan, at Manzanilla. Surveyor of Customs—Daniel P. Allen, at Quincy, Illinois.

THE SACRAMENTO.

The United States steamer Sacramento arrived at St. Paul De Loando February 11th.

MILITARY CHANGES.

Brevet Major General Charles A. Woods has been assigned to command the General Service Department at Newport Barrack. Captain A. S. Forsyth, A. Q. M., is assigned to the Department of Mississippi and Arkansas.

UNITED STATES SENATE.

Further Debate on Adjournment.

Postponement Until Thursday.

WASHINGTON, April 16, 1867.

The President appointed Messrs. BUCKALEW, ANTHONY and TRUMBULL the special committee on Mr. Buckalew's resolution relative to reports for the press.

Mr. FESSENDEN called up Mr. Anthony's motion to extend the time for adjournment to to-morrow P. M.

Mr. SUMNER moved to substitute Thursday.

Mr. HOWE maintained that if the President sent improper nominations here, the Senate could not confirm them, and if the offices were left open, the President was to blame.

Mr. CAMERON believed the President did not intend to send here any but the worst men for offices. He was willing to adjourn to-day, and the responsibility would rest on the President.

Mr. CHANDLER wished to correct the misapprehensions that copperheads and traitors would be confirmed, as intimated by several Senators.

Mr. FESSENDEN was not aware of such intimation until the present remark of the Senator from Michigan. He supposed the Senator would name them.

Mr. CHANDLER replied that he alluded to Senator Fessenden.

Mr. FESSENDEN said he repelled the remark with the contempt and scorn it deserved, and argued it was the duty of the Senate to stay here until all vacancies were filled. He had never made such a remark as charged.

Mr. CHANDLER said he had followed Mr. Fessenden as his leader, but he now desired to state that he would never vote to confirm copperheads and traitors.

Mr. DRAKE did not consider it the duty of the Senate to stay here to act upon repented nominations, who have been repeatedly rejected.

Mr. DAVIS claimed from the commencement of the Government till now that the President always had the right to nominate whom he pleased, provided they were competent and honest; but a new rule had been insisted on here, that all nominees should be Radical Republicans.

Mr. YATES dissented from the views of Mr. Davis, claiming that as radicals were triumphant in elections, their offices should be filled by such persons.

The Senate passed a resolution to adjourn on Thursday at 4 o'clock, and went into executive session.

A PARIS correspondent thus describes Napoleon's position at worship in his private chapel in the Tuileries:

"The Emperor and Empress occupy large arm chairs of crimson velvet and gold, placed in front of the pulpit; the archbishop and other church dignitaries seats to their right and left. The ministers and officers of state have smaller velvet chairs immediately behind them, whilst the household have benches reserved for their use, separated by gilt balustrades. The walls are adorned with paintings of considerable merit, and the chapel is lighted by cut glass girandoles of great size and elegance of form. Tickets of admission to the galleries are given as a personal favor by members of the household to their friends. On Good Friday ladies are only admitted in black dresses and wearing black veils. Her Majesty's costume on this festival invariably consists of black silk and a Spanish lace mantilla."

LATE NEWS ITEMS.

The New York Times' Panama correspondent denies the report of the arrest of Congressmen by order of Mosquera. The latter had informed Congress that he did not consider it a legal body, alleging that it had admitted members not qualified by law. The quarrel, however, had been settled, and Congress continued its session as usual.

The New York Tribune's Montreal special says it is stated that Jacques Cartier had declined both the Lieutenant Governorship of Canada and the rank of Knight of the Bath, preferring to work in Parliament for the good of his constituents. The Minerve also says that steps are to be taken in England to buy the Northwest Territory, in order to connect by this belt of land British Columbia with the eastern part of the Confederation. It is also said that official circles in England are afraid the United States may take a fancy to claim a part of the valleys of the Red River.

The New York Herald's Havana correspondent says: A report was current that the Liberals had occupied Lissal. Two schooners and a steamer had been purchased by the Liberals to blockade Vera Cruz, on the Gulf side. Perfiori Diaz is said by Imperialists to have met with some disasters at Puebla, being forced to fall back on Ojaca. Ortega recently made an unsuccessful attempt to escape from prison, and was placed in close confinement.

The Savannah Republican says: Accounts represent the condition of things in Camden and Bryan counties as truly alarming. The wildest days of St. Domingo seems to have been reproduced in Southern Georgia. In one county two negroes were sentenced to death for murder, and three others to the penitentiary. A mob of colored people surrounded the jail, broke open the doors, and allowed the prisoners to escape. In another county men were found hanging to trees within a short distance of the public roads, and had been hanging there for several days.

Information has been received at the headquarters of the army that the Crow Indians manifest a reluctance to join the hostile tribes now arrayed against the Government, and will probably not unite with them. The Crow tribe is one of the largest tribes of Dakotah Territory and can muster about one thousand warriors. They are believed to exercise great influence upon the surrounding tribes of the Sioux, and the failure to secure their alliance may have the effect of withdrawing other bands who have already committed themselves to the war confederation.

STATE ITEMS.

The iron tankage at Oil City is estimated at a quarter of a million barrels capacity.

The church pastors of Franklin and Oil City have addressed a letter to Governor Geary "sincerely thanking him for the distinguished stand he has taken on the subject of temperance."

The officers for the Soldiers' and Sailors' Association of Meadville, for the ensuing year, were chosen on Tuesday and are as follows: President, D. C. McCoy; Vice-Presidents, Dr. J. E. Dunn, Frederick C. Peck, D. V. Derickson, James Compion and Frank Stevens; Secretary, John J. Henderson; Corresponding Secretary, John F. Morris; Treasurer, O. H. Hollister.

A Hanover, York county, paper, says that a strange and fatal disease has made its appearance among the cattle of a farmer named Rudesill, residing in Heidelberg township, a few miles from the borough of Hanover. Two valuable cows attacked by the disease died last week after suffering but a short time.

The large furnace, at Gibraltar, about five miles southeast of Reading, owned by Simon Seyfert, Esq., was totally destroyed by fire on Saturday afternoon. The origin of the fire is not known.

OHIO ITEMS.

The number of students in attendance at Oberlin College this spring is 775, of whom 446 are males and 329 females—a slight increase over last year.

The fruit crop of the Muskingum Valley promises to be an abundant one, judging from the present flattering prospect.

It costs something to be sick, particularly in Massillon. The Republican says a gentleman was taken sick at a hotel in that place, and was unable to reach home for seventy-two days. His hotel bill, including medicines, was fifteen hundred dollars.

The Jackson Oil Company, with a capital of $25,000, and in which H. M. Osborn, Nelson Steel and J. B. Webb are corporators, has been incorporated in Columbus. The principal office is to be located at Salem, Columbiana county, Ohio. The operations of said company are to be carried on in the counties of Columbiana and Mahoning, Ohio, and in the county of Beaver, in Pennsylvania.

The Cincinnati Elevator Company, with a capital of $250,000, has just been incorporated.

The Tuscarawas Chronicle tells a horrible story of an occurrence said to have happened in the western part of that county. The wife of Mr. ——, became excited with reference to a poor horse trade he had made, and in a passionate altercation between them she seized an ax and struck him a severe blow on the side of the neck, cutting a frightful gash, but fortunately not severing the jugular vein. A physician was called, and the wounded man has almost recovered. We suppress names out of regard to the feelings of the family connections.

THE Clayfish, as a great dirt digger, are destructive enemies to the Mississippi levees. Innumerable as the white ants, they live like troglodytes, in dark caverns, along the side of every stream, pool, lagoon, or river, in the banks of which they scoop out their habitations. Taking up their abode in countless millions, within the levees, where they find a secure retreat, they honeycomb it in every direction, drilling out spacious chambers, which are enlarged with the wants of the growing colony. The planter, congratulating himself on the solid bulwark that fences his property, little fancies what a mere shell it has become under the claws of these tireless workers, until some day the straining tide forces in the earth, the little rift widens, and with a sudden crash, the embankment gives away, his fair fields are swept by the resistless torrent, and horses, cattle, barns, sometimes himself and family are borne off on the boiling flood.

FIFTEEN MILLION DOLLAR MORTGAGE.—The Lafayette, Indiana, Journal, of the 11th, announces the recording by the recorder of Tippecanoe county, of that State, on Wednesday last, of a mortgage and deed of trust given by the Toledo, Wabash and Western Railway to Isaac H. Knox and James R. Jessup, the consideration of which is fifteen million dollars. Of this sum thirteen million three hundred thousand are for the purpose of retiring the bonds heretofore issued by the several different companies, of which this is a consolidation, and issuing new ones in their stead. The balance of the sum, one million seven hundred thousand dollars, is to be used for additional equipments and improvements on the road. Provision is made for the payment to the Commissioners of fifty thousand dollars per year as a sinking fund.

LEGISLATIVE PRAYERS.—At the end of the long list of appropriations made by the State Legislature, at its late session, come two items which have a very curious appearance. They read thus:

For Prayers in the Senate $300 00
For Prayers in House 300 00

The Legislature was in actual session about sixty days, from which it appears that the Harrisburg clergy received $5 a day for officiating at the opening of the daily sessions. We do not know that there is any particular objection to paying the clergy of Harrisburg for their services; but there is something very odd in the business-like way in which they are tacked on at the tail end of the General Appropriation Bill.—Phila. Bulletin.

WE learn from the London papers that the Rev. C. H. Spurgeon is now holding his Sunday services at the great Agricultural Hall, Islington, his own "tabernacle" being under repair. Twenty thousand persons were accommodated with seats on the last day of March. Ladies had to raise their parasols to protect them from the sun's rays, the roof of the hall being composed entirely of glass. The popularity of the reverend gentleman does not appear to have diminished.

WENDELL PHILLIPS has no right to force Gen. Grant upon the Republican party as its candidate for next President. Whether he is the right man for the place, we will consider in due time; but this is not the time, nor is Mr. Phillips the man, to make our nominations. Let the people have a chance to observe, reflect, and decide.—New York Tribune.

SOME liquor seized by the State constables in Middlesex county, Mass., was analyzed a short time since, and on a bottle which was lettered in gilt "D. Brandy, thirty cents per glass," the chemist placed the following label: "Unable to decide what the manufacturer intended to imitate; it contains more or less camphene." He also added as a private mark a scull and cross bones.

Should all animals except the cow die, the loss could be borne. Should she alone die, you would have mourning. She should be treated as tenderly as one's wife. Keep her clean, feed her well, and respect her. Think of a cow standing all night in a fence-corner, and her back covered with ice and snow.

The Mason & Hamlin Cabinet Organ

Unites, to a considerable extent the powers of the pipe organ with those of the pianaforte, and is much less expensive than either. For all sacred music, and much secular music—all, indeed, which requires sustained tones—it is superior to the pianaforte. It is equal in the quality of its tones to the best pipe organ, while its action is much more quick, adapting it to the most rapid music. In addition to these good qualities, it has other important advantages. It is easier to learn to play upon than the piano; and one who plays but very little can derive much more pleasure from it. It is very much less liable to get out of order or out of tune than the piano. It is made in a greater variety of styles. Some styles are among the most elegant pieces of furniture obtainable, while others, in plain cases, are furnished at one-quarter the price of a good piano. The Cabinet Organ occupies much less space than the piano; is more easily transported.

Considering these good qualities and practical advantages, it is not surprising that the Mason & Hamlin Cabinet Organ has achieved such wide popularity within a few years. Within that time its manufacturers have found it necessary to increase their manufacturing facilities sixfold, and yet have rarely been able fully to supply the demand. It is not unreasonable to believe that the Mason & Hamlin Cabinet Organ is destined to more general use than any other large musical instrument.

To those not familiar with the Cabinet Organ, it should be explained that it is a reed instrument, being a very important improvement upon the melodeon, harmonium, and all other reed organs and instruments of this class. It was introduced nearly five years since, by Masom & Hamlin, who had previously been engaged in the manufacture of melodeons and harmoniums, and depends in considerable measure for its excellence upon several improvements which, being patented, cannot be employed by other makers. At first it was difficult to attract the attention of musicians, from the fact that they were very generally, and not unjustly, prejudiced against reed instruments. But the merits of the Cabinet Organ have overcome this prejudice, and it has received, within these few years, an amount of commendation from the best musicians of the country never before bestowed on any instrument. A majority of the most eminent organists, pianoists, composers, and musical directors in the country have given written testimony to the great value of the improvements effected by M. & H., and to the fact that their Cabinet Organs are the best instruments of this general class in the world. As manufacturers sometimes indulge in loose statements respecting such matters, M. & H., invite attention to these recommendations, as printed in full in their larger circulars. When a manufacturer has such testimonials, he is sure to print them, and when he cannot show them in print, it is safe to infer that he has them not.

Mason & Hamlin have also constantly exhibited their Cabinet Organs in competition with all other instruments of this general class at the principal Industrial Fairs of this country, and have been awarded the HIGHEST PREMIUM IN EVERY CASE BUT THREE OR FOUR. The extraordinary number of FIFTY-TWO GOLD OR SILVER MEDALS, or other highest premiums have thus been awarded them within a few years for important improvements effected by them, and the superiority of their instruments to all others. Pittsburgh Agency for the Mason & Hamlin Cabinet Organs, at C. C. MELLOR'S, 81 Wood street. Send for a circular.

ON Wednesday night a negro lad named Richard Lummox, was shot, it is feared fatally, by an unknown white man, in the vicinity of Mr. Josiah Updegraff's residence, on Centre street, East Wheeling. It was an unprovoked attack to commit murder. The miscreant has not been found out.

THE RUSSIAN CESSION.

Comments of the English Press.

The English papers are terribly bothered by the, to them, sudden news of the Russo-American provinces. The Globe says it will make a profound impression in England.

"It is," says The Globe, "the reply of the American Government to our Confederate scheme. At the very time we are laying the foundation of a great Independent State in North America, the United States negotiates and obtains possession of a large territory laying beyond ours, and greatly obstructing the communication between our territory and the sea. The United States will endeavor to make this new territory a means of obstructing the Canadian Confederation, and, if possible, of detaching from it our provinces on the Pacific, namely, British Columbia and Van Couver's Island.

"So much for the object of the Cabinet of Washington. But what is the motive of Russia? A few days ago we called attention to the bill brought forward in the American Legislature for legalizing the sale of ships and warlike material to belligerent Powers—in other words, to allow America to fit out and sell to belligerent powers as many Alabamas as they choose to purchase. We then expressed our belief that this measure was inspired by the Russian Minister at Washington. We said that Russia was looking forward to a European war; when her fleets would be shut up in the Baltic and Black Sea; and that she desired to have the means of attacking and destroying the commercial navy of England or any other power who should venture to oppose her aggrandisement in Turkey, by getting a supply of swift war steamers from the United States.

"This cession of Russian-America to the United States is a further step in the same arrangements. As the only price by which she can purchase the co-operation of the American Government, Russia cedes this territory. Possibly the Yankees even bargain with Russia for a morsel of the 'sick man's' property—say, the Island of Cypress—in order to obtain for their navy a station in European waters.

"Again and again we have said that a great European war is approaching. Long-sighted Russia appears to be the only Power that has commenced its preparation for the emergency."

The Post remarks that, however strong the resolution of England may be to keep clear of foreign affairs, the storm that moans in the East and the angry waves that wash up from the West, remind her that it is not solely with domestic matters that her Imperial interests are concerned; that Lord Stanley vainly pretended the other day in Parliament that the relations of England with the United States were on the best footing; that the telegrams in reference to the purchase of Russian America for $7,000,000 by the United States are as surprising as were the Russian treaties to France, and that this is the first and most important step on the part of the United States toward claiming the whole North American continent.

Senator Cameron and the Offices.

The Washington correspondent of the Cincinnati Gazette, has been making an expose of the brokerage for the offices which certain Senators have been carrying on with the President, of the way the Senator sold out Pennsylvania. The correspondent says: Simon Cameron aspires to further political advancement, and to secure it has not hesitated to join hands with Buckalew, Randall, and Cowan. So far as the influences of the offices in the close districts can do it, the State has been given to the fusion of Democrats and conservative Republicans.

In Judge Kelley's district a rich anti-war Democrat, who never contributed a cent to help recruiting, or for the relief of soldiers, was nominated as Assessor. Senator Cameron insisted strenuously upon his confirmation, and carried the matter so far as to say that he should consider himself perfectly disgraced and degraded if he should not promptly effect this confirmation, because the person whose name was before the Senate had bolted from his own party to vote for Mr. Cameron thirteen years ago. However, the Republicans of Philadelphia brought such an overwhelming force to bear upon the Senate as to secure a rejection, against the wishes of Mr. Cameron.

The Fifth district is one of the closest in the State, having elected a Republican to Congress for the three terms just passed by from thirty to two hundred majority. The postoffice at Doylestown is the principal office in the district, and its patronage has a marked effect upon the election returns. A regular copperhead was nominated for the place. The member from the district protested. The Senate Postoffice Committee investigated the case and reported strongly against it. But in spite of all this, Senator Cameron united with Senator Buckalew in demanding the confirmation, and the Senate, yielding to the usage that whenever two Senators agree, either being a Republican, their wishes shall be respected, confirmed the appointment. To gloss over this great outrage, Senator Cameron united in securing the confirmation of a gentleman of most excellent character to a second office in this district; but he also was an intense partisan Democrat.

In the York district a Copperhead was nominated to one of the revenue offices, who, in the late campaign for Governor, caused a wooden cannon to be made, and followed Gov. Geary through his own county, hauling the cannon with a negro sitting outside to caricature Gov. Geary riding into the City of Mexico on a field piece. The appointment was obtained by Senator Buckalew. The entire Republican party of the district protested against a confirmation. Gov. Geary entered an earnest protest. The Senate Finance Committee reported against him. A delegation of war Democrats from the county where he lived came on to protest, but Cameron, uniting with Buckalew, insisted upon the confirmation, and the Senate, knowing the facts, confirmed the man.

In the Koontz district the offices have been parceled out between Democrats and conservative Republicans by Buckalew and Cameron, against the wishes and positive objections of the members representing the district.

Reminiscence of John B. Gough.

The fact has already been announced that John B. Gough, the famous temperance orator, is said to have received an offer of sixty-two thousand four hundred dollars a year for one night's lecture in each week in the city of London. In referring to this fact, the Titusville Herald gives some interesting reminiscences of Gough, as follows:

A gentleman of this city gives us some reminiscences of this famous man, who it is well known, has seen a great deal of vicissitude, eaten the bread of poverty, and passed through all the miserable phases of a drunkard's career, until by reformation he has risen to the highest pinnacle of cotemporary fame, eclipsing the splendor of the stage and Senate by the magic creations of his genius. Our informant, now in middle life, well recalls the time when "John" was a poor and friendless book-binder in Newburyport, Massachusetts, in the employ of Mr. Tilton, living from hand to mouth, consorting with "fire-laddies," the victim of jolly "benders" and desperate straits. He recollects one summer night of sitting on the steps of St. Paul's Church, when "John" came sauntering along with a doleful face, as if he had lost the last friend he had in the world. They fell into conversation, and John then told his pathetic story of the bad luck which had dogged his heels from childhood. Mr. B., as we will call our informant, was moved by the piteous tale, and bestirred himself to make friends and business for John, taking him magazines to bind, &c. There was a debating club in the town called the "Cicero," of which B. was a member, with other choice spirits, some of which have since become distinguished in different walks of life. B. invited John one night to drop in; he thought at first he was not good enough for such associations, but was finally prevailed upon to do so. After the several members had spoken their pieces, B. called on John, and with much reluctance he recited the "Sailor Boy's Dream," and with such dramatic effect as overshadowed all competition, and electrified the house. B. then persuaded John to repeat the story he had told him on the church steps, and he complied, much to the delight of his auditors. Soon after this, a brilliant party was given in town and our fellow-citizen secured an invitation for John, who was taken quite aback at such social recognition. B. and his friends eked out John's scanty wardrobe, to make him presentable, and by a concerted arrangement with the host, Col. J. —— the embryo orator, was asked for a song and recitation, which were the life of the evening's entertainment. The Col. next day, learning the circumstances of John, gave him a substantial proof of his appreciation. The next incident recollected by B., was John's first temperance lecture, which was opened by prayer by Rev. Dr. D. The same night, John got on a spree and brought up at Agile Co. No. 6's Engine House, where he burlesqued his own previous effort as well as the prayer of the reverend gentleman, who had invoked a blessing. But the ice was broken, John had discovered his "gift," but it was some time after, that he found his "mission." It was some years before he became resolutely steady, and a temperance lecturer by profession. His name is now a household word, on both sides of the Atlantic, and his triumphs as an orator have never been surpassed, in his peculiar style and line. Twelve hundred dollars in gold for a single speech! This beats the earnings of the leaders of the bar, popular preachers and the stars of the stage, and eclipses all Greek and Roman fame.

THE STRIKE IN NEW JERSEY.—It is expected that the iron miners' strike in Morris and Sussex counties, New Jersey, will end this week, as the men have in many cases resolved on resuming work at their old wages. At the Swede mine work was commenced on Thursday, and it was expected that the men of the Orchard, Richmond and Allen, and one or two others, would follow the example. The windows of the residence of a Mr. Rosler, one of the "bosses" of the Irondale Mines, were broken on Wednesday night, but whether by the miners or not could not be ascertained.

THE General Passenger Agents of various railroads, in the country, assembled in convention, at the Kennard House, in Cleveland, Thursday, to effect a revision of passenger rates, and to form an association for preparing a perfect and reliable railroad guide.

History of the Treaty.

The cession of Russia of her possessions in the Northwest was proposed to Mr. Buchanan, when Secretary of State under Polk, but Robert J. Walker, then Secretary of the Treasury, would not agree to pay the $5,000,000 demanded, and the negotiations were concluded. The present cession was secured by M. de Stoeckl when on a visit to St. Petersburg last fall, when it was discussed in the Imperial Council of State, it was advocated by the Grand Duke Constantine, Admiral General of the Fleets, who saw at once that in case of a war with England or France it would require a large naval force for its defence. Prince Gortschakoff, the Minister of Foreign Affairs, regarded the country as worth at least $15,000,000 to the United States, and was not disposed to part with it for less.

The Emperor finally decided to relinquish the sovereignty for $7,000,000, to which $200,000 were added to extinguish the titles of the Russian Fur Company and Hudson's Bay Company. Now that the treaty has been ratified, M. de Stoeckl will send it to St. Petersburg by M. de Bodisco (a nephew of the old Baron's,) who is First Secretary of the Russian Legation here.

IN Disraeli's Amenities of Literature the history of punctuation is well given. Caxton introduced the Roman pointing, the dash being the only mark they used. This was softened to the comma, and the colon was introduced to "show that there was more to come." The semicolon is a latin delicacy long resisted by the obtuse English typographers. The Bible of 1692 does not contain it, but it appears in that of 1693 and afterward. Chalmers thinks that the use of the semicolon would have saved Shakspeare from his commentators.

Religious Intelligence.

Rev. James M. Platt was installed as pastor of the Leetsdale Presbyterian Church, on Monday evening. The services were exceedingly interesting. Rev. Dr. James Allison presided. Rev. Dr. Williams preached an appropriate sermon. The charge to the pastor was delivered by Mr. Lowry, of Beaver, the charge to the people by Mr. Allison, and the benediction pronounced by the newly installed minister. This flourishing young church gives abundant indications of continued growth and prosperity, and the relations between its pastor and the members promise to be of the most cordial and spiritually useful character.

Rev. A. Y. Houston has accepted a call from the United Presbyterian Church, at East Palestine, and arrangements have been made for his installation. Rev. Dr. John B. Clark, of Allegheny City, is to preach, Mr. McKenzie to address the pastor, and Mr. Timmons to address the people.

At the recent meeting of the Allegheny Presbytery of the United Presbyterian Church, the following resolution was adopted:

The religious revivals in the various Presbyterian and Methodist churches in this vicinity still continues with unabated interest.

Recruiting in Pittsburgh.

Recruiting for the Regular Army in this city now averages about three men per day. There are three recruiting offices in this city—on Fifth, Fourth and Grant streets, the latter being for colored recruits. The office on Fifth street, which is situated in the second story of Bank Block, is under the charge of Brevet Lieut. Col. R. H. Haymond. At this office, during the month of January, forty persons were enlisted; during February, twenty-three, and during March, twelve. In addition to this number, thirty offered themselves for enlistment, but failed to pass the proper examination, and were rejected. No cavalry is enlisted. Those enlisting at this office are sent to Fort Columbus, Governor's Island, New York. The office on Fourth street, which is located opposite the Mayor's office, is under the control of Brevet Captain W. C. Green, of the First U. S. Infantry. During the month of January, at this office, thirty-nine men were enlisted; during February, eleven, and during March, fourteen. During these three months thirty-eight were rejected, failing to pass medical examination. The men enlisted by Captain Green are principally sent to the 43d Infantry, and go from here to Governor's Island. In the same office, since January 1st, Major Benjamin P. Runkle, of the 45th Regiment V. R. C., enlisted ninety men for his regiment. Major Runkle left the city on the 8th inst. for Louisville. The office for the enlistment of colored soldiers is situated on Grant street, near Diamond alley, and is under the charge of Lieutenant W. M. Boggs, of the 38th U. S. Infantry. The office has only been opened since the 7th of March, and since that time twenty-six men have been enlisted, and sent to Jefferson Barracks, Missouri. It will be seen from the above that, from the 1st of January last to the 1st of April, one hundred and sixty-five men, white and colored, enlisted in this city for the Regular Army.

AN HONEST GIRL.—Last Friday a country woman named Mrs. Gibson came to the Allegheny market with marketing, and while there lost her pocket-book containing forty dollars. She supposed that her pocket had been picked. She had, however, dropped her pocket-book in the market house, which was found after she left for home by a country girl named Miss Grimes, of Stewartstown. Mrs. Gibson came to the market yesterday, when the pocket-book and money was returned to her by Miss Grimes. She offered to reward Miss Grimes for her honesty, but the latter refused to take any money.

Patterson, David L. Smith, John P. McHendry, H. L. Young, John S. Nicholls and John S. Edgar. After transacting some miscellaneous business, the League adjourned.

CARD TO THE PUBLIC.

OFFICE OF THE PACIFIC AND ATLANTIC TELEGRAPH COMPANY OF THE UNITED STATES, Pittsburgh, April 17, 1867.

The Pacific and Atlantic Telegraph Company of the United States have contemplated from the period of its organization, the bringing about such a reduction in the rates of long telegraphic messages, as would enable the Commercial Public to enjoy the facilities of the Telegraph, for the transmission of Letters, thereby causing the Telegraph to take to a large extent the place of the mail. This reduction they have developed, and would announce that their wires are now open to the public, to all points where Night Operators are employed, for the transmission of messages after 6 o'clock P. M., at the following rates:

Twenty words or less same as ten words previous to that hour. More than twenty words, and not exceeding sixty, twice the usual rate of ten words. Sixty words, and not exceeding one hundred and twenty words, three times the usual rate for ten words. And for each additional one hundred words, or any part thereof, the usual toll for ten words. The Daily Commercial

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 17, 1867.

☞ The Daily Commercial is circulated in all parts of the State, in Western Virginia, Ohio and adjacent States, and without comparison, is the best advertising medium in Pittsburgh.

☞ The Commercial gives the only complete reports of the local markets published, and is accepted as authority by dealers at home and in all the principal cities.

☞ The Commercial is sold everywhere in the cars; and by News Dealers at all the principal points. Price five cents a copy.

☞ The Commercial solicits local correspondence, giving events of interest, concisely written; also, of improvements, inventions and personal movements.

☞ The Commercial is the only paper in Pittsburgh that uses the telegraph freely. Its special dispatches are from correspondents selected for their intelligence and reliability.

The communication we publish to-day rather disposes of the New County projects, and leaves little to be said on that subject. Still, our columns are open to any attempt.

We announce it as a veritable fact that the Democratic press and party are weaned of the epithet Abolitionist. For months the term has not been publicly used in its old and pungent applications. The privation appears to set severely on the less versatile portions of the party who do not know themselves, without the nagur in their politics. Others are consoling themselves with the comprehensive political epithet Radical, which will admit of any bad meaning the imagination sees fit to attach to it.

The nomination of Mr. Beecher, in Brooklyn, as member to the State Constitutional Convention, is an interesting and unusual proceeding. In New York clergymen are seldom put up for office, and scarcely do we find them seeking a nomination for any political position. This habit seems to be a good one, and strictly in accordance with enlightened propriety. The position for which Mr. Beecher has been named is an exception, however, and there are many reasons in favor of the proceeding. In reorganizing the fundamental law, the best minds of all classes and professions in the land, should be called to take part.

The New York Constitutional Convention bids fair to be an able and reliable body of men. Thus far, the parties appear to have selected their best men to represent in it their political views. The proceedings of the Convention will be regarded with interest not only in the State but throughout the country. Some subjects will probably come up for consideration, in which other States, as well as New York have undergone some change of opinion during the last twenty years. New York, especially in her great metropolis, has felt profound apprehensions of danger to the administration of justice, from an elective judiciary. If we are to receive the repeated and uncontradicted statements of the press, Judges have been elected for municipal courts in that city, not because of the usual qualifications of a judicial officer, but because of their ready compliance with the dictates of party feeling, and their presumed pliability in the direction of a particular class of their constituents. Some method more consonant with just administration of the laws and with society may be devised by the Convention.

THE MURDER OF PRISONERS.

War, at the best, is a severe remedy for the civil wrongs and ills that nations are heir to, but it must be admitted that civilization, or, in other words, the principle of Christian morals applied to the affairs of governments, has greatly modified the horrors of war. In no respect is this more marked than in the treatment awarded to prisoners.

Hence the menace of death to the prisoners captured in the contest between parties in Mexico strikes our higher civilization with horror. And the cold blooded murder of one hundred and twenty French prisoners taken by the Liberals makes us ashamed of the party with which our political sympathies naturally affiliate. It is a burning disgrace to the cause of Juarez, as great as a similar measure, threatened, or said to have been threatened, by Maximilian, was to the Imperial party. The people and government of this country have had their feelings too recently and horribly excited by savage cruelty to prisoners, in our late contest, to look at it in other lands with any other emotions than detestation and horror.

And our government acts but with honorable and consistent humanity in raising its voice to deprecate the barbarism. Not only should its advice be interposed to save the life of Maximilian, but its power, if need be, should be pledged to back its advice, with reference to Maximilian and all others, on both sides, who may need the exercise of humanity toward them as helpless prisoners of war. The strong speech of Cornwall to the barbarous and blood thirsty Irish of his day, might well be addressed to these murderers on both sides, and it would probably carry with it emphasis and honor enough to be as effectual as the Protector's was. No liberalism with which the people of the United States sympathises, can tolerate so savage a practice as the murder of prisoners.

THE NORTHERN DOMINION.

The American ladies sometimes make themselves sufficiently ridiculous by copying European fashions in dress. We hope our political world is not going to be invaded by the equally great and more pernicious folly of affecting the sensitiveness and alarm felt in European nations, on any change of policy or augmentation of power by any of their neighbors. We have no need to feel anxiety, though our neighbors should grow much wiser in their policy and much greater in their power, than they are, or appear likely to be. Canada may go on for a century, as in times past or as anything promises for the future, and not come within sight of a possibility of being dangerous to the United States, whether it shall continue its connection with England, or become an independent Kingdom, Dominion, or Republic. If it could be shoved ahead by a century's growth in a hundred days or hours, there would be no chance of its being dangerous to the United States. Hence Mr. Banks's Resolution, that the aspect of affairs in the British province are the occasion of "solicitude" to the United States, was but a piece of over-acted and ridiculous demagogueism.

The little effervescence among us on the Mexican question, a couple of years ago, was quite a different sort of thing. There appeared to be some danger then as well as direct insult. The time was chosen, when we were engaged in a great struggle, and the aspect of the Mexican enterprise looked favorable to the insurrection which we were endeavoring to suppress. It was also a wanton indignity to a Republic modeled after our own and our immediate neighbor. And finally it was undertaken under the auspices of nations with which we have less sympathy and in which we had less confidence than in the adjustment of the Canada confederation. There is, in fact, no parallel between the two cases.

Whatever may be the form of government in the British Dominions north of us, their increase of population and advancement in wealth will only make them the better neighbors to us, for it is next to impossible that two nations so homogeneous in character should fail to cultivate trade and commerce with each other and to conduct them on principles advantageous to both. The fear of their growth and power, as dependencies of England or as an independent nation, is too absurd to be entertained by any sensible mind.

What Next?—The discovery of precious metals and other riches in our new possessions in the Northwest—and a stampede thither.

The New County of Robinson.

To the Editor of the Pittsburgh Commercial:

I fancy that the half-dozen of individuals who profess to be in earnest in getting up a "counter irritant" to consolidation in the project of the creation of the new county of Robinson, would save themselves some trouble by reading article XII, of the Constitution of Pennsylvania. This is the second amendment adopted in 1857, and of course has not been called to the attention of the public:

"No county shall be divided by a line cutting off over one-tenth of its population (either to form a new county or otherwise,) without the express assent of such county, by a vote of the electors thereof; nor shall any new county be established containing less than four hundred square miles."

This is an absolute constitutional requirement, which an unanimous Legislature cannot dispense with. Let us examine for a moment the requirement in regard to square miles. Allegheny county contains 754 square miles. Say that the portion north of the Ohio and Allegheny contains one-third. Thus you would have 251 square miles. Where are the other 150 to come from? Suppose our neighbors of Beaver county loan us fifty square miles and Butler 100 square miles. In other words, a slice five miles wide from the Ohio river to the Armstrong county line. That would give us 401 square miles. But the bill to create Robinson county has first to pass the Legislature, and then to be submitted to the vote of the three counties. What would be the result of such a vote? The full vote of each of the counties would be: Allegheny, 34,000; Butler, 6,500; Beaver, 6,000—total, 46,500. Is there a sane man who believes that 6,500 votes could be gotten for the creation of Robinson county, leaving 40,000 solid against it? The scheme is so absurd that I do not deem it necessary to waste ink and paper upon it.

"OLD ALLEGHENY FOREVER."

Incompetency of Teachers—A Remedy.

To the Editor of Pittsburgh Commercial:

The address of the Reverend John B. Clark before the Teachers' Association is an able one, and should be read by all teachers who desire a high degree of attainment in the profession. It is most painfully true that the profession of Teachers is filled to a great extent by incompetent persons. Not incompetent, it may be, so far as mere book knowledge goes, but they do not possess the art of bringing out and developing the various faculties of the minds entrusted to their care, such faculties as concentration, memory, judgment, &c. They do not possess the art of bringing pupils on in their studies in such a way that they understand them. It is common, we know, for pupils to get through a book and yet be but little the wiser. A pupil may be through and through his arithmetic, and yet be pitiably ignorant of the first rules and principles thereof. There is a very large proportion, say nine-tenths of those who set themselves up as Teachers, who are incompetent.

But who are to blame, if not the Directors, nominated at primary meetings and run by politicians of the Bourbon stripe? When will the community take up men for Directors of intelligence and progressive ideas? The miserable salaries paid by Directors to teachers is driving out of the profession all teachers of ability, and retaining only such as cannot live in any other occupation. Their incompetency to make a living in other pursuits should be no reason for retaining them in this.

The common school is not a charitable institution for such. It is a place for the development of head and heart; a place where the noblest type of man is developed. It should be no novice we should intrust with such solemn responsibilities.

If capable teachers cannot be secured by the present plan, let them be chosen by a Central Board, composed of our most competent teachers, and let the power to select teachers be taken away from Boards of Directors, that are generally notoriously incompetent.

The Next Campaign—Harrison City on the Record.

Special Correspondence of Pittsburgh Commercial.

HARRISON CITY, April 13, 1867.

At a regular meeting of the Martial Band and Union League of Harrison City, Westmoreland county, Pa., the following resolutions were adopted:

Whereas, The time is approaching when our common country will be called upon to fill the vacancy that will occur on the expiration of the term of our President; and, whereas, it is the duty of all true patriots throughout the whole Union to select and place at the head of our Government men that stood by the flag of our country during the struggle of the late rebellion; therefore, be it

Resolved, That, General U. S. Grant be our choice for the Presidency in 1868.

Resolved, That E. M. Stanton be our choice for the Vice Presidency, he being a trustworthy and faithful officer while at the head of the Department of War during our struggle for liberty.

Resolved, That from our long and intimate intercourse with Judge H. W. Williams, as well in social life as on the bench, we can and do most cordially recommend him to the loyal voters of the great State of Pennsylvania, for the office of Supreme Judge, knowing him to be a profound jurist and worthy of the position, his keen and scrutinizing eye has made him truly a fit candidate.

Be it further Resolved, That confiding in the valor and patriotism of our well tried and faithful Representative, Col. Gallagher, we desire to have him renominated for the ensuing term in our State Government.

J. C. RANKIN, President.

W. H. H. RANKIN, Secretary.

It appears from carefully prepared tables that 34,286 emigrants arrived at New York alone from January first until April eleventh. During the first ten days of this month, 7,749 arrived, or an average of nearly eight hundred a day. Of the total number, about fourteen thousand embarked from Liverpool, five thousand from Bremen, and twenty-five hundred from Hamburg. Of the emigrants who landed at Castle Garden during January, February and March, four were destined for Alabama, thirty-one for Georgia, one hundred and forty-nine for Louisiana, five for Mississippi, two for North Carolina, twenty-four for South Carolina, thirty-four for Texas, forty-one for Tennessee, and one hundred and twelve for Virginia—a total of four hundred and two. Out of 26,325, the entire late Confederacy received a bare four hundred, or one in every sixty-six.

We learn from the Springfield Republican that "the late warlike news from Europe has placed a sudden and general check on the transactions in tobacco in the Connecticut valley, which have been considerably more active during the last few weeks, after the utter stagnation of the winter. The purchasers of tobacco have all been buying for a foreign market, shipping it from New York to Bremen and Hamburg, but in the present threatening aspect of continental affairs they hesitate to proceed further and incur the risk of losing their investments." The prospect of the coming crop is not good.

The Wheat Crop.—A correspondent of the Chicago Times, writing from Rockford, Illinois, concerning the price to which he alleges wheat has been carried by speculators, says: "Now, all the farmers want is for these men to keep their faith until they get through with their wheat seeding, which is progressing finely, when they will give them No. 2 in such quantities as will dispel their ideas of a famine this year. The fall seeding of both wheat and rye never looked better on the 8th of April than now."

A stringent law against prize fighting has passed the Pennsylvania Legislature. It makes the penalty for engaging in a prize fight, or taking part as second or bottler, a fine of not more than $1,000 and solitary imprisonment not exceeding two years. Every person being present at such a fight, and encouraging the same, or laying any bet or wager on the result thereof, whether present or not, shall be considered a participant therein, and may, at the discretion of the court, be punished in like manner.

The New County Mania.—The desire for the formation or creation of new counties in Pennsylvania amounts to a positive mania, and there is really no positive necessity for any more counties. They would only serve to increase taxation, and provide offices for a few hungry politicians. In addition to the clamor for new counties from the western part of the State, it is stated that a portion of the citizens of Montgomery county want a division of their territory and the county of Madison erected.

The meteorological records kept at Sitka by the Russian government, in latitude 57:03 degrees, the mean temperature for a period of ten years was in spring 44:5 degrees: in the summer, 57:5 degrees; in autumn, 47 degrees; in winter, 36:5 degrees, and during the year 47:4 degrees. This indicates colder springs, summers and autumns, but milder winters than they have in Philadelphia.

The National Steamship Company is progressing very favorably in its scheme for connecting Boston by a strong fleet of first class steamers, with the important trans-Atlantic cities of Southampton, Havre and Antwerp. The American steamship, connecting Boston with Liverpool will soon be able to put this line in operation.

Persons not accustomed to accurate thinking make comical blunders sometimes, when they get among large numbers and estimates. One of the city papers yesterday morning said, it is estimated that eight hundred millions of men use tobacco. That is twice as many men as there are living on the globe.

The Times intimates that even if confirmed, Mr. Raymond would not accept the mission to Austria. It says:

"The pressure for the mission to Austria must have abated very considerably. In no other way can we account for the nomination of gentlemen who have never applied for it, on whose behalf no application has ever been made, who had no knowledge or suspicion that any such action was intended, and who, in all probability, could not accept the position even if confirmed. Mr. Motley's pre-eminent fitness for the position is universally conceded, and we have already expressed the opinion that the circumstances under which his resignation was tendered, would render it a peculiarly graceful and proper act on the President's part to ask to permit its withdrawal. We certainly do not believe that he will be replaced by any new appointment."

A Tongue of India Rubber.—A Paris correspondent states that in that city there is a coachman who has become a celebrity from having an India rubber tongue. A cancer on his tongue rendering amputation necessary, the operation was successfully performed, and the lost tongue replaced by one of India rubber. Although he cannot speak, he tastes, swallows and smokes his pipe with evident enjoyment; and after eating, takes out his tongue as one does a set of teeth, generally carrying it in his pocket between his repasts.

Increase in Traffic.—The Meadville Republican says: "There is a marked increase in both the passenger and freight traffic of the Atlantic and Great Western Railway lately. The Broad Gauge Fast Freight Line, between New York, St. Louis, Cincinnati and Cleveland, is doing a fine business. The earnings of the road for March showed an increase of about $40,000 over the corresponding month of last year, and April will undoubtedly be still better."

A Washington letter says: Such a backward, wet, cold, unpleasant spring time has never been known to the oldest inhabitant. Hyacinths and apricot trees are at last in full bloom, and the lawns about the public buildings are green, but the weather is anything but vernal, to the discontent of the juveniles, who begin to think about their May day celebrations.

The Financial Future.

Harper's Weekly concludes an editorial look at the Financial Future as follows: "Still, the season will not pass without trouble. Trouble may come from quarters least expected. On the 1st of June the Bankrupt Law will come into operation. Many are no doubt preparing to take advantage of that law, and the failures and suspensions which may then be announced will be startling. Many a strong house which has given extensive credits may find its debtors on the bankrupt list, and their assets, which had been considered undoubted, vanished like smoke. Then what becomes of the supposed very strong houses? One heavy failure carries many, like a row of bricks which schoolboys set up to tumble down. Shrewd and crafty men, both debtors and creditors, are shaping their course to meet the operation of this law. Such persons as have kept their accounts close, who have no over stock of goods, and, who have not foolishly speculated for a rise in stocks, in spite of every possible presage against so doing, need not trouble themselves about the future. There is a very considerable portion of the business community whose position is very strong. These will weather the gale. But among borrowers and overtraders who are unable to obtain accommodation there will inevitably be trouble, as we have long predicted. The probability is that business will now gradually fizzle out, and that a dull summer will be succeded by a revival in the fall."

PETERSON'S
CORN AND BUNION OINTMENT,

Is not only a relief, but a radical cure for those pests of the feet. Mr. J. W. Barker, the Market street Dry Goods Merchant, says Peterson's Ointment removed the pain almost immediately, and ultimately removed the corns from his feet.

Try it, and Relief is certain.

Sold Wholesale and Retail by
McCLARRAN & McKENNAN, Druggists,
85 Market st., corner Diamond near Fifth.

COE'S DYSPEPSIA CURE

Is prepared by the originator of the justly celebrated Coe's Cough Balsam. Mr. Coe has never prepared a medicinal article for public and general use but what has stood the strongest tests, and has always borne the palm of victory over every disease it has been certified to cure. Will you who are suffering from dyspepsia, indigestion, nausea, sick headache, cholera morbus, dysentary and general debility of the whole system, try but a single bottle? We will never urge you again if we fail in this case. Our own knowledge of its merits, the united testimony of all who have ever tried it, the encomiums of hundreds of our own neighbors, your duty to yourself, and the beneficial result, as certain as sunshine, all urgently, persistently urge you to try just one bottle. If what we say is not correct—if our statements concerning its wonderful virtues are not found to be true—if you do not say that the operation of the medicine is instantaneous and perfectly wonderful—we will renounce our profession as caterers to the public health, and retire from the field, admitting that we are incompetent to compound a medicinal preparation which would be entitled to your confidence.

Sold by Druggists everywhere. Sole agent for Pittsburgh, JOSEPH FLEMING, Druggist, 84 Market street. MTW

SOUTHWEST
SEVEN PER CENT.
First Mortgage Bonds.
$2,000,000 in Coupon Bonds of $1,000 Each,
TWENTY YEARS TO RUN,
Principal and Interest Guaranteed by the Atlantic and Pacific Railroad Company,

And secured by property valued at $7,500,000, consisting of their completed road to the Gasconade river, 127 miles from St. Louis, and 350,000 Acres of Rich Agricultural and Mineral Lands on its line.

This road passes through a country rich in agricultural resources and in minerals, and particularly so in iron and lead; the iron ore of the Southwest Missouri being the purest known, ranging from 60 to 90 per cent. of pure iron. Rich and extensive deposits of specular oxide and red and brown hematites abound all along the line of the road and on the Company's lands in greater quantities than the total iron deposit of any State in the Union, and a large business is now being inaugurated in freighting iron ore for the Eastern furnaces, the vast excess in yield of this over other ores paying the differences in cost of transportation.

By a provision of the mortgage, when lands are sold to the amount of $40,000, it is to constitute a fund for the redemption of a like amount of bonds, which are also received by the Company at PAR in payment for land. This land is now being disposed of at rates from $5 to $40 per acre. The climate is remarkably salubrious, and the mean temperature the same as in Virginia, the winter being short and mild. For particulars respecting lands, address Colonel A. ALBERT, Land Agent, at St. Louis, Mo.

The Company has been recently merged with the Atlantic and Pacific Railroad Company, having a land grant of 55,000,000 of acres, thereby adding to the fullest to the security of these bonds.

The road of the latter Company, when completed, will form a direct and continuous railway from St. Louis to San Francisco, much shorter and of vastly easier gradients than any other route.

Of the present issue of bonds, a limited amount is now offered for sale at the low rate of 80 per cent., subject to advance at the option of the Company.

For further particulars apply to

NOTICE—TO THE BONDHOLDERS OF THE ERIE CANAL COMPANY.—By an act approved March 15th, 1867, the Erie Canal Company is authorized to enlarge their canal to such size as they may deem expedient.

The Act authorizes the increase of the capital stock to $1,500,000, and authorizes the Company to receive in payment for subscriptions to stock any bonds, judgments or other indebtedness of the company. The act further provides that "When the present indebtedness of the company or three-fourths of the same shall have been converted into capital stock, the said company is hereby authorized to execute a mortgage of the said canal, its rights, privileges and franchises to their trustees, and issue coupon or other bonds to the amount of one million of dollars, bearing seven per centum interest per annum and not running over forty years, and secured by the mortgage aforesaid, to be expended by the said trustees under the direction of the Board of Directors in the enlargement of the said canal, and with power to sell said bonds at such prices as the Directors may deem expedient."

The company proposes to enlarge the canal to pass boats of from 200 to 250 tons burden, and as there can be little doubt of the canal when enlarged, paying the interest on its present [illegible] and stock, in addition to the interest on the new bonds, it is hoped the Bondholders will promptly convert their bonds into stock, to enable the company to proceed at once to make arrangements for enlarging. The stock books of the company will be open for the conversion of the present bonds into stock, on and after the FIRST DAY OF MAY, 1867.

By order of the Board.

A. H. CAUGHEY, Secretary.

GENERAL INTELLIGENCE.

Miss Eller, of Hamilton county, Indiana, whose case has been alluded to, after several days of horrible suffering from hydrophobia, gradually became more tranquil under the "bromide of potassium" treatment of her physicians, and is now reported to be convalescent.

A convention of French citizens of the Western States and Canada is to be held at Detroit on the 25th inst. The call says the object is to promote the general interests of the French citizens of the Western District, while matters of great importance to the French residing in Canada will be brought before the convention.

Among the American exhibitors in Paris there is no little excitement, as, in spite of the repeated extensions of space which Mr. Beckwith has obtained, there are already more goods here than there is room for, many having been sent over, I understand, without any previous notification to the Commissioner General here. The honorary and scientific commissioners, too, are in an ill humor.

The Naval Board appointed under the act of Congress, to decide upon the acceptance or rejection of League Island has reported in favor of acceptance, and that the Secretary of the Navy has officially notified the municipal authorities of Philadelphia of the fact, in order that they may perfect the arrangements necessary for the transfer of the lands to the National Government.

Here is a Chicago paragraph: "St. Louis polled 14,000 votes at its last election. Estimating the ratio of voters at one in seven, we find that St. Louis has a population of 91,000, or just a little more than half that of Chicago."

A new vehicle in Paris, for riding, is mounted on very large wheels. The horse is placed between the wheels, whilst the driver and the carriage body are over the horse. Such a vehicle as this takes up but little room and is very convenient in crowded thoroughfares.

The Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company has declared a semi-annual dividend of 4 per cent. on the stock of the Main Stem, payable on the 30th inst. Also, a dividend of 5 per cent. on the Washington Branch, payable on the 16th of April, free of United States tax.

At Jacksonville, Illinois, last summer, a young lady took a vial of chloroform to her bed with her one night, to quiet the toothache. Next morning she was found apparently dead, and after the lapse of the usual time was buried. A few days ago the remains were exhumed for removal to another cemetery. On opening the coffin the corpse was found turned over, both hands full of hair, the grave clothing torn, and all appearances indicating that the unfortunate lady had awakened from a trance to find herself buried alive.

St. Louis consumed last year in the manufacture of 217,892 barrels of beer 500,000 bushels of barley, worth a million of dollars.

The strolling jugglers in one of the provinces of France, have added to their labors, the occupation of tract distributors; they having made the discovery that the gratuity of a tract added to their meagre entertainment, increased their patronage and swelled their exchequer.

A French physician is curing his patients who are suffering from debility and reduced and enfeebled blood, by giving them the fresh warm blood of chickens, ducks and other fowl.

The Culpepper, Va., Observer says: We were pleased to notice the fine appearance of the wheat fields all along the road from this place to Washington, Rappahannock, a few days since. A better prospect has never been known in this section, for a heavy crop. The farmers are also busy plowing for oats and corn.

The grain crop in the Shenandoah Valley, it is said, will be larger the present season than ever before. Wheat, buckwheat and rye never looked better, and an immense amount of land is to be planted in corn.

A number of Massachusetts manufacturers, representing capital to the amount of hundreds of millions of dollars, assembled in Boston recently, and entered into an agreement to resist the eight hour system. They are to aid each other and energetically oppose the movement.

The Japanese performers in New York, are the talk of the town. For instance: A man lies on his back and supports for ten or fifteen minutes on the soles of his uplifted feet a ladder, twenty or twenty-five feet long, on which a boy climbs in and out to the top (which rests nowhere) and at that hight performs the most surprising gymnastic feats. An even more wonderful thing was the boy's performance on a bamboo pole, supported in a similar manner on a man's feet and nowhere else.

Embonpoint is the fashion in Paris now, and some of the most stylish ladies secure it by wearing false India rubber stomachs. The articles have long been plenty enough in this country, and the female sex haven't the monopoly of them by any means.

The Georgia Railroad Company has declared a dividend of three per cent. on the operations of the last six months, payable on demand.

A Philadelphia paper says: Delaware shad appear to be pretty well played out. But few have been taken so far this season, and the price asked for them is enormously high. The coal tar that escapes from the gas works, and the coal oil or substance of it that mingles with the Schuylkill, and finally with the waters of the Delaware, have a deleterious effect upon shad and perch in particular, and other fish in general.

Those pretending to have some data for their opinions express the belief that the demand for coal in the manufactories and for steam marine purposes will fall off materially from last year and the year before. All the indications at present favor the conclusion that the supply of anthracite coal will largely exceed the demand.

The decline of cotton in the foreign market, together with the dull trade at home, are having a depressing influence on dry goods. Prices of all but the leading staples are weak, and the market still points to lower figures, though the jobbing houses continue fairly active. We see it stated that several leading houses in New York are retailing foreign goods at prices below the actual cost of transportation.

PERSONAL.

—General Joseph E. Johnston, late of the Confederate army, is preparing a history of his campaigns. Jefferson Davis will, of course, be handled vigorously, and the work will embrace, in addition to a record of battles and marches, a philosophical view of cotemporary events, sufficient to give it the character of a history rather than a narrative. General Lee is also busy at a review of his campaigns, which a New York publisher is to take in hand, paying him, it is reported, about ten per cent. on the sales.

—The richest negro in Philadelphia is Stephen Smith, a lumber merchant. He owns seventy-five houses in fee simple, and is worth not less than $300,000. Harris Lindsey, a bounty broker during the war, is worth $250,000. There are five artists and a number of musicians that receive distinguished attention. Philadelphia has 28,000 colored people, who support seventeen churches.

—A lady in the southern part of Illinois, having a few hundred dollars concluded to try her fortune speculating in wheat. She wrote accordingly to a prominent commission house in Chicago, engaging them to act as her agents and ordering them to invest the entire sum in that treacherous staple. In a short time, contrary to all expectation, it went up to a surprising figure, and the fair speculator sold out at a great advance. Shortly after she again telegraphed her agents to purchase a large amount, but they replied in the same manner that the market was very much depressed and they would not advise her to buy. For answer she repeated her order, and by the late advance in prices has been enabled to have $40,000 placed to her credit!

—People have wondered why Vanderbilt paid one million for St. John's Park. It is easily explained. The four acres will make sixty-four building lots, and each lot is worth at least forty thousand dollars, and no doubt many are wondering why they did not see the chance to make so pretty a bargain.

—Among the passengers by the steamer Germania, which sailed on Saturday for Southampton and Hamburg, are Henry R. Kunhards, Esq., Consul at Hamburg; Mrs. F. Salinger, Miss H. Salinger, and C. C. Klambach, of Philadelphia. On board the Arago for Southampton and Havre, G. Kendell, B. S. Kendell and lady, and M. E. Ely, of Philadelphia. In the City of Antwerp, for Liverpool, W. H. Smith, Mrs. Smith, Miss Smith, B. Percy, H. Smith, Mrs. Gold, Mrs. S. Singer, C. R. Rear and lady, W. Turner and family, Mr. Roberts and Mr. Foster, all of Philadelphia. Senator Sherman, of Ohio, was also on board the City of Antwerp. Many of his personal friends went down the bay with him. He expects to return in August.

SPECIAL NOTICE.

AND COLLECTION OF

TRAINED ANIMALS.

This long established and favorite Circus and Animal Exhibition, has been thoroughly re-organized and COMPLETELY RENEWED in every detail—thus enabling the management to present the public with SOMETHING FRESH AND ATTRACTIVE. Embracing all the paraphernalia and adjuncts necessary to a first class Circus. The limits of an advertisement will scarcely suffice for a full description of the outfit, or the talents of the artists employed in this unique establishment; but the proprietors take especial pride in directing attention to the Equestrian Company, which is composed of all the old favorites,

Horsemen, Gymnasts and Acrobats,

In the Profession.

A CAGE OF TRAINED LIONS,

Has also been placed in this Exhibition, which will be entered by

MR. CHAS. WHITE.

Who will give a sensational performance while in the midst of these formidable and ferocious beasts.

A peculiar and exceedingly thrilling feature in the show will be the carrying of a
